punishment from God because of his personal sin. Elihu, having partial light on the situation, explained Job's suffering as being chastisement sent to purify Job. Finally, God spoke putting Job and the others in their place. Job's suffering was designed, first of all, as a trial in which Job could prove himself in opposition to Satan, but since Job did not pass through the trial entirely without blemish, it also had the effect of purifying him. In the end, Job was blessed with a double portion of all he had before.

NOTE: There are rich Messianic prophecies in Job (9:32, 33, 19:25-27)

NOTE: Many principles of counselling can be gleaned from this book.

10. Christ Seen:

Christ is seen as the Priest, whose patient suffering was inflicted by Satan but purposed by God.
