9. SUMMARY:

The distinctive characteristic of John's Gospel is its appeal to the whole world. Not only does John use the word "world" many times, but he also emphasises the universal nature of Christ's mediatorship; that Jesus is the only way of salvation for the whole world. Matthew, Mark, and Luke primarily present the outer factual aspects of the Lord's life and humanity, emphasising His public discourses and Galilean ministry. John primarily presents the inner doctrinal aspects of the Lord's life and person, emphasising His private discourses and Judean ministry.

10. CHRIST SEEN:

Christ is seen as the Word (1:1, 14), the Son (3:16), the Life (1:4), the Light (1:5), the "I AM" (8:56-58), and the only Way of Salvation (14:6).
